Creating Student Accounts

1. Register for a free Gmail account.

This email account is important because it's where you'll get all emails related to your students' Animoto accounts. These accounts will not be linked in Animoto itself. In your new Gmail account, you'll get communications from Animoto, including notifications when videos are complete and password reset notifications. In that way, you can see what videos students have completed and keep an eye on their activity.

2. Create alias emails for your students.

You won't actually be creating an email address for each student — just a variation on your master email address. Gmail ignores any letters and numbers you add after a plus sign. But Animoto's system thinks each of these aliases is a unique email. So if you add a plus sign to your Gmail address (like this: yourusername+alias@gmail.com), you'll be able to create up to 50 student accounts without checking 50 different email addresses.

	A	B	C
1	Last Name	First Name	Email Alias
2	Black	Michael	mrssmithenglishclass+student1@gmail.com
3	Brown	Fred	mrssmithenglishclass+student2@gmail.com
4	Johnson	Amber	mrssmithenglishclass+student3@gmail.com
5	Jones	Carl	mrssmithenglishclass+student4@gmail.com
6	Lee	Josh	mrssmithenglishclass+student5@gmail.com
7	Smith	Jane	mrssmithenglishclass+student6@gmail.com
8	Taylor	Julia	mrssmithenglishclass+student7@gmail.com
9	Williams	Sarah	mrssmithenglishclass+student8@gmail.com

3. Create Animoto accounts for your students using the alias emails.

4. Log into the accounts and add pro promo code in the account profile.
